

Diamond Piano School Account Guide

Diamond Piano is the perfect offering for schools wishing to serve a comprehensive, challenging curriculum to a student population of varied ages and musical backgrounds.

Diamond Piano is also ideal for piano teachers and music academies who are seeking a piano curriculum for their students that includes a tremendous amount of music theory and accountability. Individual piano teachers can create Diamond Piano school accounts too.

If they choose, schools can create a school account and related teacher accounts at no cost. Diamond Piano will create their account(s) and will provide them with a code for their students to enter when purchasing a subscription to Diamond Piano.

If a school prefers to purchase access for their students, they can speak with a Diamond Piano representative about special invoicing options.

The teacher(s) in a school can assign material to their students individually or as a group or groups, and teachers can view all progress made by each student. This allows teachers to create lesson plans based on the successes and struggles that they can see in their students' accounts.

Schools can customize their Diamond Piano homepage, and they can also enjoy a free platform that allows them to add additional videos, audio files, and PDF files for only their students to access.

Diamond Piano School Pricing

If a school sets up a free school account (with unlimited free teacher accounts), each student subscription costs the student's family $20/month. The school is provided with a code that each of its students' families enters when subscribing to Diamond Piano. This code ensures that the student is properly placed into the school's account.

NOTE: Free school accounts can earn an annual commission from Diamond Piano for keeping an average student population of more than 10 students during the calendar year. Contact a Diamond Piano representative for details about school commissions.

If a school chooses to purchase subscriptions for their students, they can do so. Diamond Piano is able to offer significant discounts to schools with student populations of more than 100 students.
